Capt. Judkins, the veteran Commodore of of the Cunard line of transatlantic steamships, has tendered his resignation, and will retire from sea service after one more voyage in the Scotia, which sails this week. He has become widely known and respected in this country and in England. He has made between 400 and 500 voyages across the Atlantic, voyages to China, and a voyage to the Black Sea with French troops for the Crimean war. Of over 60.000 passengers who have been under his care, not one life was lost. The following vessels have, at various times, been under his command: Britannis, Acadis, Columbia, Hiberuia, Cambria, America, Canadia, Arabia, Persia and Scotia.

A letter from Lexington, Va., to the Richmond Dispatch says that the family of Gen. Lee have selected Col. Charles Marshall, of Baltimore, to writ a full biography of the great Chieftain, and will turn over to him ample material, including that collected by Gen. Lee himself, and his notes and letters of his campaigns. Col. Marshall will also prepare the biographical sketch for the forthcoming Lee Memorial, which the Faculty of Washington and Lee University are pushing forward to completion. To his high literary attainments Col. Marshall adds the qualification of having been Gen. Lee's private secretary during the Staunton, in the day, would probably, even if nothing bet ter turned up in the interval, make even the Democrats, with all their sins upon their heads, acceptable to a majority of the voters.'

The real feeling entertained towards the memory of Gen. Lee, by the bitter Radicals, is exhibited in the following from the Washington Chronicle:

"R. E. Lee is to have a statue in Richmond. The leader of the rebel armies is to be cast in bronze or cut in stone. Future generations are to look upon his likeness, that treason may be nurtured and live. He who merited a trai tor's donth on the scaffold is to be honored as a cet x-god."

We do not choose to comment upon this:

In the distribution of the new National bank currency it is understood that the applications from the South have yet amounted to only one-third of the share to which it is entitled. Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazatte] RICHMOND, Nov. 8 .- Another day wasted; fifteen hundred dollars more of the people's money thrown away for want of an attendance on the part of the members of the Legislature. Virginia is not in a condition to be thus treat ed. It is contended that a Road law must be tents, tendered his resignation yesterday and enacted by this present Legislature, and yet its members will daily absent themselves and a few are made to stay here and adjourn from day to day without accomplishing any object, while many are off. The general impression here to-day is, that nothing will be done now, and it would have been better had there been an adjournment last Saturday. The Road Jury and Fence Bills, it is thought, will fall, and the endeavor now is to throw the responsibility on the Governor, whose constitutional views will not permit him to sign the bills. There was nothing done in either branch of the General Assembly to day, and no quorum. In the House there was a debate, participated in by Messrs. Kelley, of Fredericksburg; Popham, of Bath; Woodson, of Craig, and others, on the question of adopting the Senate resolution for a return of the Road bill from the Governor, which lasted for about two hours, when the question being taken there were only fiftythree present-no quorum-and the House adjourned.

The election is passing off very quietly and no disturbance is anticipated.

BAYONET CHARGE IN A BALL-ROOM. -- One of the companies of the Independent Blues, a new command which Colone! Clarence Peters is organizing, held a ball at their armory on Monday evening. The hall was crowded to its utmost capacity, and everything passed off in a quiet and orderly manner until about one o'clock, when, it is alleged, a crowd of desperate characters made their appearance and commenced cheering, and indulged in smoking cigars in the ball room. Col. Peters used every endeavor to quiet them by persuasion, which failed to have any effect upon them .-He then attempted to put out the ringleader, who was taken from him by his friends, when the whole party set upon the colonel. He then drew his sword and cut down two of them but he became completely surrounded, and with the assistance of several of his officers he kept them at bay until the company was formed. The colonel was compelled to use the company, and drive them out of the armory at the point of the bayonet. The company was formed in two ranks, stretching from wall to wall, driving the rowdies headlong down the stairs, pell mell over each other. During the melee Colonel Peters was struck several times, and Lieutenant Huffington was struck with a billy and knocked insensible. - Bal. Sun.

"MILITARY PROTECTION."-When St. Aldegonde, while puffing his fragrant Cabana at the pic-nic, asked the ladies if the emoking was disagreeable to them, the reply was: "not at all—we rather like it in the open air." So say we of the United States troops, who kind ly interpose to protect us in the enjoyment of the sacred right of voting. We rather like it. It relieves us of an unpleasant responsibility, and makes us feel flattered by the attention. It serves too, to dispel a foolish delusion, which may be still lurking in some old fogy corner, that something more than the name of Republic yet subsists among us. This same sort of delusion survived the first Cæsar five hundred years—for the Senate of Rome, in their report to the Emperor at Constantinople, announcing the subjugation of Italy by the Barbarians, spoke negtionals of the safety. Republic yet subsists among us. This same Barbarians, spoke unctiously of the safety of the Republic. In the same sense we still have the Republic : and voting in the presence and under the dictation of bayonets, we realize all the blessings of the best Government on earth. While New York and all the other large cities of the North are subjected to the same wholesome discipline, if we had been overlooked

CORRUPTION DIVORCE. -The Peck bargain and corruption divorce suit in New York is now a sensation in that sensation-loving city. The incidents of this case are remakable, and if true give us the spectacle of the most contemtible characters figuring in a way that would shame the worst schools of fiction which refuse to produce a novel without relieving it by at least one virtuous and honest character. The Peck disorce suit gives us the following inci-

WOULD HAVE HIS DEER. - The Galt (Ont.)

"A young man named George Mays of Tuth er township, recently went in pursuit of a deer, which took refuge in a pond. Being without back of the animal, which started from the pond and took across the fields. Mays clinging to the horns. The deer jumped the fence, and the young man's head, coming in contact with one of the stakes, was badly cut. Falling from his seat, he grasped the deer by the hind legs and was again mounted, and forced his prize to the ground, after receiving a severe cut in one of his legs from the animals horns. Mays received assistance from some neighbors, who brought an axe and put an end to the struggle. The carcass weighed 145 pounds.

MASSACHUSETTS ELECTION. - The Radicals, as usual, have carried Masssachussetts, by probably the usual majority. Claffin is re-elected Governor. All the Radical Congressmen are re-elected, Twitchell in Third District by about 300 plurality, and Hooper in the Fourth by over 2,000 plurality. reliable Oculist.

From Ex-Governor Shorter, of Alabama. hufaula, Ala., April 7, 1870. Dr. M. Bernhardt, Oculist and Optician: My Dear Sir: I beg to express to you the deep sense of obligation I feel for the professional kindness extended to me, by which, with eye sight impaired by years of application and study, I am enabled to write this note with the clearness of vision which I enjoyed in the days of my youth. May your honorable and useful life long be spared, that humanity may enjoy your thorough experience as an Oculist.

Prof. Bernhardt:—I owe you a debt of gratitude for the benefit you have rendered me. For many years I have been accustomed to use glasses when reading or writing, and always with pain, more or less, to my eyes. You have relieved me from all inconvenience. I can now read and write for all hours without any pain, and can see objects distant and near through the same glasses with clearness and distinctness that I have not experienced since my youth. I am gratefully yours, JOSEPH H. PLUNKETT,
